

Background and Latest Figures

According to the latest available figures from the Turkish Directorate General of Migration Management (DGMM), there are more than 4.8* million foreign nationals present in Turkish territory, 3.7* million of whom are seeking international protection. Most are Syrians (3,685,839* individuals) who are granted temporary protection status. In addition, international protection applicants from countries including Afghanistan, the Islamic Republic of Iran and Iraq constitute another group of foreign nationals. According to DGMM, there were 31,334* international protection applicants present in Turkey in 2020¹, published annually. Moreover, according to UNHCR, there are close to 330,000 international protection status holders and asylum-seekers. The number of foreign nationals has increased by 68,864 in comparison to June 2020 (3.6 million foreign nationals).

In addition, there are 1,155,312* foreign nationals present in Turkey holding residency permits, including humanitarian residency holders. Compared to June 2020, this is an increase of 146,558 individuals. The exact number of humanitarian residency holders is unknown, but it is estimated that there are more than several thousand humanitarian residency permit holders.

Syrians under Temporary Protection

Turkey's temporary protection regime grants the 3,685,839* Syrian nationals the right to legally stay in Turkey as well as obtain some level of access to basic services. The vast majority - 3,630,477* individuals - live outside of formal camps, known as temporary accommodation centers, thus primarily residing across the Turkish border provinces of Hatay, Adana and Kilis. As such, only 55,362* Syrians live in formal camps, the majority of which are located close to the Syrian border. The number of temporary accommodation centers in June 2021 (7 centers) are the same as June 2020 hosting migrants in Turkey. However, 7,291 fewer Syrians currently reside in the centers compared to previous year.
